David P. Goldman, Asia Times Columnist and Author, Lectures at Hillsdale College
Eugene C. Pulliam Distinguished Visiting Fellow in Journalism

On Tuesday, April 4, David P. Goldman, Asia Times Online columnist and author of How Civilizations Die (And Why Islam is Dying Too), will deliver a lecture on “The Echo Chamber of the Mainstream Media” at Hillsdale College at 8 p.m. ET. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Goldman received his bachelor’s degree from Columbia University and his Master’s in music education from the City University of New York. He also holds a doctoral degree in economics at the London School of Economics. He is the Wax Family Fellow at the Middle East Forum. Goldman is best known for his online essays in the Times under the pseudonym Spengler—an allusion to German historian Oswald Spengler who argued that Western civilization was dying.

This event is open to the media. Please RSVP to pr@hillsdale.edu.

About Hillsdale College

Hillsdale College is an independent liberal arts college located in southern Michigan. Founded in 1844, the College has built a national reputation through its classical liberal arts core curriculum and its principled refusal to accept federal or state taxpayer subsidies, even indirectly in the form of student grants or loans. It also conducts an outreach effort promoting civil and religious liberty, including a free monthly speech digest, Imprimis, with a circulation of more than 3.6 million.
