Hillsdale, Mich. – Hillsdale College is proud to host Claremont McKenna College distinguished professor of government Charles R. Kesler as the College’s fall 2018 Eugene C. Pulliam Distinguished Visiting Fellow in Journalism. Kesler will present a public lecture on “American Political Realignment and American Politics Today.”

“We’re thrilled to have Dr. Kesler joining the Hillsdale journalism faculty this fall,” said John J. Miller, director of Hillsdale’s Herbert H. Dow II Program in American Journalism. “His expertise in American political thought is an indispensable addition to the experience of our students that we are proud to welcome to the Hillsdale academic community.”

As a Pulliam Fellow, Kesler joins a list of notable individuals who have lent their skills to Hillsdale College, including Kimberley Strassel and P.J. O’Rourke, among many others. Pulliam Fellows enjoy a two-week residency on Hillsdale’s campus and teach a course in the journalism department. Fellows also consult with students who work on Hillsdale’s student newspaper, The Collegian.
