Hillsdale College Announces Debut of The Imprimis Podcast

HILLSDALE, Mich. — Hillsdale College announces the launch of a new podcast, The Imprimis Podcast, which will feature audio versions of printed Imprimis issues. The podcast will be hosted on the college's new integrated Hillsdale College Podcast Network, which features several other podcasts, including The Larry P. Arnn Show, The Radio Free Hillsdale Hour, The Hillsdale Dialogues, and The Hillsdale College K-12 Classical Education Podcast.

“We are excited to share the new Imprimis podcast with our audience,” said Scot Bertram, director of the Hillsdale College Podcast Network. “Imprimis serves the college’s mission of educating all who wish to learn, and this new podcast will allow for a larger audience to discover important discussions and lectures that happen at Hillsdale events.”

Imprimis is a free monthly speech digest that is dedicated to educating citizens and promoting civil and religious liberty. The content focuses on culture, economics, education, and politics and is drawn from speeches delivered at Hillsdale College events. The new Imprimis Podcast will feature audio versions of Imprimis issues read by Hillsdale College students.

The Hillsdale College Podcast Network’s shows are available on major podcast platforms, including Apple Podcasts, Spotify, and Google Podcasts. Listeners can subscribe to the network's shows for free and receive new episodes as they become available.

About Hillsdale College

Hillsdale College is an independent, nonsectarian, Christian liberal arts college located in southern Michigan. Founded in 1844, the College has built a national reputation through its classical liberal arts core curriculum and its principled refusal to accept federal or state taxpayer subsidies, even indirectly in the form of student grants or loans. It also conducts an outreach effort promoting civil and religious liberty, including a free monthly speech digest, Imprimis, with a circulation of more than 6.4 million.
