Christopher F. Rufo Joins Hillsdale College as a Distinguished Fellow

HILLSDALE, Mich. — Hillsdale College is pleased to announce the appointment of Christopher F. Rufo as a distinguished fellow. As a fellow, he will teach courses and speak at college events.

Rufo is also a senior fellow at the Manhattan Institute and a contributing editor at City Journal. He holds a Bachelor of Science in foreign service degree from Georgetown University and a Master of Liberal Arts in extension studies degree from Harvard University. He is the director of four documentaries for PBS and the author of “America’s Cultural Revolution: How the Radical Left Conquered Everything.”

Rufo joins several other distinguished fellows at Hillsdale College, including classicist and military historian Victor Davis Hanson and C.S. Lewis scholar Michael Ward. These fellows contribute to an active academic community that encourages rigorous inquiry and thoughtful discussion.

About Hillsdale College

Hillsdale College is an independent, nonsectarian, Christian liberal arts college located in southern Michigan. Founded in 1844, the College has built a national reputation through its classical liberal arts core curriculum and its principled refusal to accept federal or state taxpayer subsidies, even indirectly in the form of student grants or loans. It also conducts an outreach effort promoting civil and religious liberty, including a free monthly speech digest, Imprimis, with a circulation of more than 6.4 million.
